AUBURN LOSES TO VANDERBILT

Tennesseans Too Heavy for Alabama's Eleven.

The Vanderbilt University football team defeated the Auburn eleven on the 36th of October on the Montgomery gridiron by the large score of 40 to 0.

It was generally expected that the Tennesseans would win, and the expectations were realized when the ball was first kicked off. The Tennessee team was the heaviest by about twenty pounds to the man, and all of the men were old experienced players, while on the other hand the Auburn men, with a few exceptions, are new material.

The day of the game was a model football day, and a large crowd was expected, but for several reasons it did not show up, and only a very small crowd saw the game.

Taking the players individually, Edgerton, Simmons and Hume, of Vanderbilt, and Park, Johnson and Patterson deserve special mention for the work done by them.

Johnson, of Auburn, playing on the back-field, did some of the prettiest tackling ever seen on the Montgomery gridiron.

It looks now as if this year is our "off year" in football. Auburn is to be consoled by the fact that the two defeats we have suffered so far, have been administered by two of the strongest teams in the South, and also that our team is one made up almost entirely of new men. That our team has done good work, cannot be doubted and Coach Williams is to be congratulated on the fine work he has done of converting these men into a team that has stood up as well as it has.

Tuscaloosa wants to arrange a game of football with Auburn! We cannot see why they could not agree to play us when we made propositions to them in the Spring, or when we repeated our desire to play them by trying to arrange a game with them at the beginning of the session. They are aware that our schedule is full and that we cannot play any more games out of the schedule, hence their desire.

Pay up your subscription as soon as you possibly can, for it is utterly impossible to run the paper unless you do it.

A manager has been elected for the baseball team and should he have the financial support of the student body, he can turn out a very successful team this season, as five of the old players have returned this year and it is rumored that the material among the new men is all that could be desired. Let the students do everything in their power to arouse the right kind of enthusiasm for this part of our athletics and the result need not be feared.

There is something wrong here this year, for the rats are not learning the college yells as they should and in other ways are not evincing the proper spirit and enthusiasm; this is caused either by indifferent disposition on their part or by lack of example of the old men. Whatever is the fault it should be remedied at once.

It is a lamentable fact that the cities of the State do not turn out larger attendances to the intercollegiate games; the crowds at the games in Montgomery and Birmingham were very small and this goes far in discouraging the boys to schedule games at these places.

Corporals have been appointed and it is noticed that several have a gloomy look, occasioned either by a failure to get in the lucky seventeen or not being fortunate enough to get the high place for which they were striving.

Later on a basket ball team must be organized and practiced. This game was started here only last year, but, judging from the interest taken, Auburn can easily put out a first-class team this year.

The enrollment still increases and with the new men that will come in after holidays, we can confidently expect a larger number of students than were here last session.

Promotion.

The following are the promotions of officers in the corps of cadets as read out last Saturday:

Company A—First Lieutenant, F. J. Houston; Corporals, J. H. Childs; W. M. Wilson; T. J. T. P. McEldery.

Company B—First Lieutenant, W. B. Hamilton; Corporals, Middleton; W. L. Dumas; J. F. Chambers and A. G. Jones.

Company C—First Lieutenant, C. E. Feagin; Corporals, B. L. Shi; J. L. Robinson; W. S. Going and C. E. Fields.

Company D—First Lieutenant, J. O. Webb; Corporals, McDuffie; C. S. Joseph; C. J. Jackson; H. R. Luscher.

EXCHANGE COLUMN.

A most flagrant case of plagiarism has just come to our notice. In the last copy of the Atlantic Monthly, we find, thinly disguised under the title of "College Honor," our old familiar masterpiece, Hon. Wm. Jennings Kibbe's "Student's Honor." Old students will no doubt remember the furor which this article produced in Sherman literary circles last year. Mr. Kibbe informs us that he intends to enter suit for damages at once.—Austin College Reveille.

This article is surely worth the reading and careful perusal of its students, even if its distinguished author was not original in writing it.

In the Autumn Woods.

In silence drop the oaks' last brittle flakes,
And as the Indian summer still recedes,
A lonesome echo of her music wakes
From harp strings hidden in the whistling reeds.—Ex.

The greatest of poets once had sung.
But here's where even Shakespeare slips,
For love's best habit is a pair of lips!—Ex.

I am very unhappy;
Now, I thought it a "beaut,"
But she smiled at my suit,
And exclaimed,—"Oh, you cute

She smiled at my suit,
I am very unhappy,

How the Northern Football Teams are Playing.

West Point has placed herself in the front rank of the Northern colleges as regards football. She has shown her wonderful strength by tying both Princeton and Yale, teams that have hitherto been considered as good as there is. Ann Arbor, on the other hand, has been playing inferior ball; the Carlisle Indians put up a better game against them than they have against the other big teams. The prospects now are that West Point will have an easy game when the two teams clash.

Pennsylvania, it was said, had produced plays that would revolutionize football, but the poor playing against Harvard does not go to show that this will be the case.

The Carlisle Indians have been, it seems, playing the poorest ball. Harvard's work has been fine so far and her prospects for the championship are now very bright.

AUBURN PLAYS

DIRTY BALL!

An Account of Tuscaloosa-Georgia Game, in Which Auburn Is Mistaken for Tuscaloosa.

There is an account of last Saturday's game between Tuscaloosa and Georgia in the Nashville News which showed Auburn up in a bad light, but luckily, it was through a mistake. The correspondent from Montgomery in speaking of Tuscaloosa's team, invariably calls Tuscaloosa Alabama, and naturally the Nashville editor supposed "Alabama" to mean Auburn, as she has always led our State in athletics, and has been especially prominent in the football department. This will have no effect for the reason that among the football enthusiasts of Alabama, it is generally known who played at Montgomery. Of course, Auburn is not anxious to bear the accusations that properly belong on the shoulders of others, and does not want other colleges' misfortunes piled up against her, but in this case, it is a matter of no great importance.

Coming Game.

The Louisiana State University played the University of Mississippi in Baton Rouge last Saturday with the result of a score of 46 to 0 in favor of the former. It will be remembered that we meet Louisiana on November 20, but it is to be hoped that we will not meet a fate similar to Mississippi. If our team takes advantage of the time between now and the 20th, there seems to be no reason why we should not win, and that by a good large score. The three teams that we are yet to meet are not near so strong and heavy as the ones we have played; by good, hard practices and absence of over-confidence, we should be in such form when we meet them as to give them the dose that we have up till now been taking.

MANAGER BRAGG'S LETTER

To the Tuscaloosa Manager and His Reply—The Exact State of Affairs Between Auburn and Tuscaloosa.

Of late there has been so much talk of why a game of football between Auburn and Tuscaloosa had not been arranged earlier, that it seems best that an exact copy of the letters of the two managers explaining this, should be put before the student body. The following are the letters as appeared in the Montgomery Advertiser:

"Mr. J. I. McQueen, Manager of the University of Alabama Football Team:

"DEAR SIR:—Last summer, I, as manager of the Auburn Football Team, did all in my power to arrange for a date for the University team to meet Auburn. Auburn failed on every offer, but kept a date open for you until about the middle of October. We could not wait longer, and signed contracts for the limited number of games that our faculty will permit. A short while ago, after we had suffered a severe defeat, I received a letter from you begging for a game on any day between, I think, November 9th and November 16th. Since receiving your letter, by much persuasion, we have finally gotten the faculty's consent for a game with you, on your campus or on ours. When I met you this morning your stated that you were ready to play Auburn anywhere on any date, and further you took the trouble to look me up and so inform me. I then told you that Auburn would meet you on any day between the 9th and 16th of November. I then offered to sign a contract on the spot. You refused.

"Auburn never selects weak teams to play and if we are defeated we always leave the field with the satisfaction that we played the best game we were capable of playing.

"I would like very much to accommodate you by signing a contract this afternoon for a game on our campus or on your campus, for any day between November 9th and November 15th. These are the only six dates we can offer you, and will accommodate you by playing on either of those dates. If you do not accept this offer (or rather this is an acceptance of yours), I hope that you will let the public understand the real condition of affairs.

"Very Respectfully,
"THOMAS BRAGG,
"Mgr. Auburn Football Team."

MCQUEEN'S REPLY.
"In answer to the letter, I desire to state that my acceptance of Mr. Bragg's offer would force my team to play three games within eight days, as we have just met Georgia, and have another game on November 16th. Of course, anyone who has ever seen a game of football knows that no team can afford to play three games within so short a time.

"It is due to this fact, and not to any 'backing down' on our part, that I have declined to meet Auburn on any of the above mentioned dates.

"Could we fix a date without interfering with any of the games that I have already scheduled, I would gladly meet Auburn, but, unluckily, after this week, the only date that I have is filled in on Manager Bragg's schedule.

"Very Respectfully,
"J. D. MCQUEEN,
"Manager University of Alabama Football Team."

FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Our Games Have Not Netted us as Was Expected.

It is to be regretted that the games so far have not paid us near so well as they should. The games in Birmingham and Montgomery netted us nothing; we merely got the expenses of the team.

Should the proceeds from the game in Atlanta be as small as those from the other two games, we will surely come out behind financially. Under these circumstances, it would be the duty of the students to make this good; each one must take his part of the burden and see that everything in the financial line is set right.

How We Do It.

Preacher, captain, through the center goes,
Sloan and Davis skirt the ends, oh, what a football shows!
Jerry finds an opening and through it like a flash,
Houston next is out the ball and make a five-yard dash.
On goes Auburn down the field to goal;
The opposing team is wondering why it never had been told,
That in Alabama, down in Auburn town,
A football team by Williams coached, can bring their good "rep" down.

Examination in Physics.

I. What is a swing swang? Give its evolutions and convolutions; show minutely the radial symmetry developed in it; explain in detail its relation to general harmonic motion.

II. Give the gross and minute anatomy of a twin-thin; show graphically its growth; explain how, when aggregated, it can be separated and counted; give its relation to the area of a triangle; describe the development of its eggs.

III. Give the best and most modern pronunciation of the following: (1) Millimeter; (2) the letter Z; (3) Omega.

AUBURN AND TUSCALOOSA

To Meet—Date Has Been Satisfactorily Arranged.

It is a source of gratification to the Auburn boys to learn that through the untiring zeal of our manager, Thos. Bragg, Auburn will be able to meet Tuscaloosa on the latter's campus next Friday. Tuscaloosa has a fast team this season, but if our boys put forth every effort in their power, there seems to be no reason why we should not give them a good game, a game that will do credit to the old Auburn pluck.

Coach Harvey has been hard at work forming a team for the Tuscaloosa boys to feel proud of; that he has a team that is superior to last year's, does not admit of question, for this is shown by the high score that they have made against Mississippi and also by the struggle that they put up against Georgia in Montgomery.

There has been much said that Auburn had "backed down" and was afraid of Tuscaloosa, but anyone who looks at the facts from an impartial standpoint will readily see that Auburn has at all times been desirous of this game, as is shown by the fact that efforts were repeatedly made last session to arrange a satisfactory date for the game; these efforts were repeated at the beginning of this session, but proved to be futile.

Manager Bragg's efforts to arrange the game is shown in his letter to the Tuscaloosa Manager which was published in the Montgomery Advertiser of last Sunday. Anyone reading these facts cannot by any means say that Auburn has shown any disposition to "back down," but on the contrary has shown an aggressive spirit in the matter all the way through.

The difference between Buffalo Bill and Tuscaloosa is that Buffalo Bill has a show and Tuscaloosa hasn't.
